Lumberman Takes Over Throne Last Occupied by Erskine Ramsay

Presenting to his loyal subjects in the kingdom of Birmingham, his gracious majesty, Joe Brady.

This brave man of the people, as a shrewd and a demagogue, as Andrew Jackson, as well-made as Henry Ford, will hold the kindly scepter over Birmingham.

At a time when kings all fearfully and not for long on thrones, the world on every side, the steady dynasty has not been long in America, his mother once over straight from old Erie.

Self-proclaimed, declared himself on the world on every side, the steady dynasty has not been long in America, his mother once over straight from old Erie.

His entry into the business world was made in the tender age of 10, when, instead of riding bicycle and going to movies, he became a stevedore at the Barren Lumbar Company.

Years of hard work and long hours brought him to the rank of a first-class stevedore, and he was in charge of the company's fleet of boats.
